

Bailey & Wood Financial Group is designed to bring a simple concept to the home lending process. Service is the key and is what separates us from other lenders, brokers, and banks. During the most challenging times in the mortgage industry we have continued to grow by adding additional employees, new locations, and technology friendly applications. We have done this by being very up front with our clients, while building a foundation through realtor and industry contacts that people want to come back to and be a part of.
